

Abstract of the Disclosure

A radiographic imaging assembly comprises a radiographic silver halide film having a film speed of at least 100 and a single fluorescent intensifying 5 screen that has a screen speed of at least 200. This imaging assembly is particularly useful for mammography or imaging or other soft tissues.